Wearingeul

<Wearingeul : Literature Project 글입다>

Wearingeul interprets, expresses, re-designs art works with fresh & modern insight. Art works such as literature, music and so forth, which are visually amorphous and vague, are the main sources of Wearingeul projects. Wearingeul does not simply imitate the original art work but infuses modern design and own account into the originality. Through synesthetic approaches, Wearingeul designs the invisible art works into the design arts which people can see, sense, and even smell. Wearingeul always challenges to the nebulosity and obscurity of art works.

BOOK-PERFUME™

*Multiple Options Available

Wearingeul's the first project "Adding scent on Literature" has started from Book Perfume. Book perfume is literally "The perfume for books". One can spray the perfume on a book, and can enjoy the fragrance during reading. It lasts approximately 4~8 hours on books, and 3~5 hours on fabric. Each Book Perfume is developed to materialize 'the scent of the literature art works'. Thus, it is interesting to guess "what Sherlock Holmes smells like".

BOOK-PERFUME™

On Time Book Perfume, the fragrance of time

The book perfume expressed the moments of time as fragrance. The impressions given by the slips of time from morning until night are added to the moment of reading. '6:30am' perfume that expresses the early morning time when you can feel the cold air, '2:00pm' perfume that expresses a lazy afternoon where the warm sunlight beats down, '9:00pm' perfume that expresses after taking a shower that will clear up your day, '1:30am' perfume that expresses a quiet and lonely night time of contemplation.

INK PACKAGE

Yun Dong-ju Ink Package

*Multiple Options Available

An ink with the color of poet Yun Dong Ju's 'Counting Stars at the Night'.

The three types of inks including the 'A star spattered hill' ink, inspired by the poetic expression 'A star spattered hill' and focuses on the 'star', 'The sky, seasons passing by' ink, inspired by the poetic expression the 'The sky, seasons passing by' and focuses on the 'sky', and the pearl ink 'stars in autumn', inspired by the poetic expression 'stars in autumn' and focuses on the autumn 'night sky' where stars are filled, have all been produced through the process of numerous ideations and mixing of colors.

The 'Shoot the moon' ink with the color of a bluish autumn night sky with the halo of the moon, was inspired by Poet Yun Dong Ju's prose titled, 'Shoot the moon.'
