

We, at Choigang Foods,
use seaweed from the pure area of the western coast, Chungnam, South Korea.

We, as a Fisheries Incorporated Association, have committed ourselves to the professional R&D
and manufacturing of traditional laver.
We place a higher importance on the quality of the products more than their appearance,
and produce laver with devotion,
which aims to contribute to the health of people.

At Choigang Foods, the provision of healthy food to consumers comes first.

Premium Laver

At Choigang Foods, the provision of healthy food to consumers comes first.

Premium Laver

We roast the laver once and then season it. Then, the second round of roasting begins. This process highlights the savory flavor and crispier texture of the laver.

- Our laver products deliver the maximum flavor and savory texture of laver.
- Our laver products are not tough and have proper elasticity
- We manufacture our products with hygienic equipment, and systems that were obtained by an HACCP certification.

Three Major Special Qualities of Laver

- 01 Laver is rich in dietary fiber.
  - The rich dietary fiber in laver prevents the synthesis of cholesterol and bile acid. The accumulation and absorption of cholesterol in the body is specifically prevented by laver.
- 02 The prevention of osteoporosis
  - The calcium content of laver is as high as powdered formulas; thus, it promotes the growth and development of young children and is effective for the prevention of osteoporosis.
- 03 The reduction of blood cholesterol
  - Laver directly helps eliminate cholesterol, and lowers blood cholesterol levels.
