The world's first patented Omega-3 beauty product made from organic perilla oil

A beauty product manufactured using production technology for cosmetics containing plant-based Omega-3 derived from organic Gold Perilla.

It effectively moisturizes the skin and supplies it with rich nutrients.

Both the Enriched Cream and Enriched Mask Pack are dual-functional cosmetics that help to whiten the skin and reduce wrinkles.

Organic Raw Material Certified by KTR COSMOS ORGANIC

What is COSMOS?

The COSMOS (Cosmetic Organic Standard) certification is an international organic and natural beauty product certification mark unified by COSMOS-AISBL, a unity of five certification organizations from four European countries including BDH in Germany, ICEA in Italy, ECOCERT & COSMEBIO in France, and the Soil Association in England.

COSMOS Organic Raw Material Certification & Standards

COSMOS certified products have to undergo rigorous testing and procedures.
For a product to gain COSMOS certification, at least 95% of the agricultural raw materials used have to be organic and the product must contain less than 2% synthetic raw materials. In addition, over 20% of the entire product have to be made from organic raw materials.

What is linolenic acid Omega-3 from perilla seeds?

It has warm properties, contains no poison, and makes our bodies smooth and beautiful

According to Donguibogam:
Principles and Practice of Eastern Medicine

Perilla seeds contain the most alpha linolenic acid among vegetables. High-quality linolenic acid is extracted from perilla seeds. Pusan National University Well-being Research Center has verified Donguibogam's findings through modern science and created vegetable omega-3 beauty products.

Pusan National University Well-being Product Research Center has researched the effects of perilla oil on skin cells
