Premium Products

3D functional baby sleeping bag is composed of high-tech porous structure so called three dimensional air mesh, which have outstanding double-sided natural air-permeability, so that it effectively disperses, or discharges heat that generate from a baby's head and body under the circumstances in which newborn baby or infant should have to lie down for a long time period, 3D air mesh can easily dry the sweat through the natural circulation of the air and also prevent baby's fever.

Natural 3D mesh sleeping bag can be used not only in the baby's bedding, breast-feeding, bottle feeding but also in the stroller and car seat.
