Vegetable Perilla Omega-3 recognized by the media

This product using home grown organic perilla as a raw material and containing the highest level of vegetable omega-3 was recorded 5.0 out of 5.0. The chefs have said that this product is recommended for people who eat raw perilla oil itself for their health or do not enjoy the scent of perilla oil as it is raw and unroasted. Perilla is pressed, not roasted so the raw perilla oil has a weak aroma and flavor. However, there is no concern about benzopyran, a carcinogen that may be present when roasting sesame seeds.
