The Magic Mirror

A Cottage in the Wood

But the queen died. The king soon married another wife who became queen. The new queen was very beautiful, but she was also proud. She hated to think that anyone could be more beautiful than she was.

The queen had a magic mirror. She would look at herself in it and say,

"Magic mirror, tell me true!
Of the ladies in the land,
Who is fairest? Tell me, who?"

And the mirror always answered,

"You, oh Queen, are the fairest in the land."

But Snowdrop grew more and more beautiful. When she was a young lady, she was more beautiful than the queen herself.
