Product Information	  Advantage Technology <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Heat reflective technology for the artificial turf system is an important technological breakthrough. These advanced technology offer new advantages and opportunities in artificial turf system. Our product reflects and emits heat from the sun back into the atmosphere instead of absorbing it into the artificial turf surface. The amount of our product is measured by both reflection coefficient and thermal emittance.

Artificial turf Systems

Our long pile artificial turfs are specifically designed to set a new standard in sports fields. After much innovation work, Our R&D department has produced this next generation turf.

New raw material : Polyethylene is well-known raw material, but in a different blend the way for higher resilience and a softer touch. And also improved sports performances like ball roll, bound behaviour, more comfortable sliding tackles, speed, and etc.

Soft feeling, but strong : each grass yarn monofilament has a high density of more than 2.200 Dtex. The grass yarn is composed of six of those filaments, resulting in an overall density of 13.200 Dtex. This further improves the product's life expectancy.

Key benefits

- Reflects radiation, lessens heat
Traditional artificial turfs absorb large amounts of solar radiation which can in-turn transmit heat into occupancy zones. MasterCool reflect light energy in the first instance - before heat is absorbed.
- Can improve sports activities comfort
In lower temperatured sports fields such as soccer and baseball, MasterCool can translate to cooler sports playing and recreation facilities.
- Can help reduce cooling costs
Less heat penetration can lower water and cooling energy demands. Comparative studies identify significant cooling energy savings are possible using MasterCool.
- Heat island reduction
Heat island effect refers to artificial turf pitches areas that have higher temperatures than their surroundings largely due to the concentration of heat absorbing chemical materials. MasterCool can help reduce the negative effects of heat islands.

- Reduced artificial turf maintenance
Extreme daily cycles of ultraviolet (UV) radiation, infrared (IR) radiation, and moisture penetration tend to wear out materials. MasterCool slow down the rate of degradation by reflecting the UV and IR radiation. Extending artificial turf life helps cut maintenance costs and reduces the creation of unnecessary waste.

TPE rubber granules

The infill materials for artificial turf require high shock absorption property for safety of players. Our TPE granules (here in after "Infill Master") are used as an infill material higher cushioning effect can be obtained.
Infill Master is prepared in granules form by mixing high proportion of paraffinic oil in SEBS. Infill Master is non-toxic. So allergic effects of crumb rubber infill can be avoided. Due to higher shock absorption of Infill Master knee and ligament problems can be minimized.

In addition to the world's first high-frequency hot air fan using the world's first new technology, High-Frequency Heating System, High-Frequency Heating System, High-Frequency Air-Conditioner is an eco-friendly company that leads the energy industry by developing a number of new products such as eco-friendly fan and IKONIC fan through continuous technology development.
Product Name	HiON High frequency fan heater / HION Eco-Friendly wet air heater / HiON Iconic Electric Air- Conditioner
Product Information	1. High frequency fan heater It is a product that dramatically reduces installation time and cost because it does not require heating piping and heating equipment. It is used as a heating device for the greenhouse farms. It increases quality and harvest amount because of light transmittance to the greenhouse owing to the condensation prevention effect and insect and disease prevention. It greatly helps greenhouse space utilization because the product is compact (size of an outdoor air-conditioning unit) and does not require plumbing equipment. It is a wet heating system using high-frequency instead of burning oxygen. This system is operated/maintained individually for each fan heater with simple management and low maintenance cost (Although other products decrease their heating efficiency after 1~2 years due to scale and other reasons, this product does not decrease energy efficiency over time after installation due to zero scale). 2. Eco-Friendly wet air heater As a new product in 2019, the existing air heater was improved using a compact and new design. It is an eco-friendly product. This wet air heater does not burn air unlike conventional heater with excellent thermal efficiency spreading low and far and minimal temperature differences between up and down. It was developed as an eco-friendly product that allows cultivating crops in a pleasant environment because it maintains a moisture level. 3. Iconic Electric Air-Conditioner It is a new product in 2019 developed by Hy-On. It was newly developed after supplementing the shortcomings of carbon and sheath heater by using a high-tech heating element. It was developed by adopting the direct thermal warm air method. The advantages of this new product are: 1) A specially processed product imported from Japanese with specialized silver attached to the heating element; 2) Excellent durability by using high-quality stainless steel, an eco-friendly material; 3) Zero CO2 generation with no smoke and odor because it does not burn internal oxygen. It saves 10~20% of fuel cost compared to existing heaters; 4) Generated anions offer excellent air purification, antibacterial effects, and deodorizing effects; 5) An eco-friendly product using electric energy. It can increase temperature immediately without the need of preheating and operation. It can be used as a fan during the day or summer; and 6) Light (10kg) and compact. It is easy to install and use by anyone. Others: 100% heat maintenance, excellent marketability. The product can be used for various purposes including livestock farms, warehouses, heater for businesses, and industrial and drying purposes.

We are making every effort to realize energy saving, which is a long-cherished desire in all countries around the world, and we are creating the best power saving system that can reliably improve power efficiency by applying remote management based on artificial intelligence (AI) technology. In particular, by intensively developing solutions for supply to domestic small and medium-sized enterprises and developing countries abroad, the company considers the interests of its customers as the highest value and does its best to achieve the public interest as a social organization.
Product Name	F1, AI-300, AI-F1000, AI-FS150, AI-FS300
Product Information	AI energy saver is an innovative product that saves electricity by stabilizing voltage and reducing power usage. AI energy savers are state-of-the-art and are especially rated as hybrid power accumulation systems. In Korea, we received technical patent certification and CE certification, and it is registered on the government purchase site, so government officials can purchase it as if they were buying it at a regular shopping mall. The amount of electricity (current) is often suddenly increasing everywhere in houses, shopping malls, and factories. This sudden rise in current heats up and consumes more electricity, shortening the lifespan of all electrical appliances or, in the worst case, causing fires or power outages. Don't invest too much in equipment used to increase the efficiency of building power systems. It can be complicated. AI energy saver will stabilize the voltage, save electricity use and increase efficiency throughout the building.

	Product Name	RT-15, RT-17, VOICE UP, Functional Artificial Nose
	Product Information	1. Reed-type Artificial Larynx About 70% of patients who had a total laryngectomy receive radiation treatment for relapse prevention. The skin tissue even in the unaffected area hardens due to sequela in the neck area after radiotherapy. Depending on radiation dosage and the constitution, patients gradually recover normal tissue between 7 months and 2 years. During this period, it is difficult for patients to verbally communicate. The reed type artificial larynx enables patients to speak at ease. 2. Electronic Artificial Larynx Electrolarynx is used most commonly because it is simple to use. However, it is inconvenient because users have to hold the device with one hand and press it against the area below the chin to speak. This product was developed as a solution to this inconvenience in the form of a hands-free device mounted under the chin, allowing the users to speak just by moving the head. 3. Functional artificial nose Patients who had a total laryngectomy breathes through an opening called stoma in the lower neck connected to the bronchus. This product is a functional device that addresses issues related to exposed respiratory track. * The benefits of using functional artificial nose <ul style="list-style-type: none">- Easy to discharge phlegm by controlling the bronchial humidity (wear moistened filter).- Filters fine dust to reduce amount of phlegm discharge and prevent various diseases- Prevents water from entering stoma when taking a shower or washing hair- Maintains comfortable breathing by covering and protecting the stoma during hiking or exercising- Provox users had to lift up the neck cover and block the stoma with a hand to speak. This device eliminates the inconvenience of having to remove the neck cover to block the stoma, offering a hygienic condition for easier speech communication.

Product Name	LED downlight/LED indoor lighting/LED Street Lights/LED Security Lights/LED Tunnel Lights/LED Flood Lights/LED lamp
Product Information	<Patent 10-1496707: LED lighting with a converter that can improve inrush current and control dimming> ※ Inrush current Inrush current means the residual voltage remaining after the power is turned off. When the current is combined with the voltage-current applied when the power is turned on, the abnormal current and voltage over tens or hundreds A are instantaneously applied. Therefore, it can cause the failure of the product and other peripheral equipment or computers. Ex) When 20 streetlights are connected in series, the instantaneous applied current can reach 1000A. It may cause the failure of the product and peripheral precision equipment (e.g., CCTV, surveillance camera, and traffic light). LED down light/LED indoor lights/LED street light/LED security lights/LED tunnel lights/LED floodlight 1. Owing to the application of the zero-cross detection circuit technology, it increases the stability of LED lights by preventing the damage of the LED module, because it senses the AC voltage supplied from the power supply unit and starts the SMPS converter when it has a value near 0V to limit the inrush current within 5A. 2. It increases the economical efficiency when using LED lighting by applying the 1~10V dimming method, which allows efficient dimming. 3. It has excellent temperature characteristics because it uses an electroless (무전해) condenser type converter. It also guarantees a lifespan of over 100,000 hours and has a surge resistance up to 10 kV against external forces such as lightning strikes. LED lamp 1. LED lighting with an internal or external type LED converter 2. Maximize the light source compared to existing lamps while reducing or saving harmful substances, waste, and energy. 3. Cost savings compared to the replacement cycle of existing fluorescent lamps (at least 5 times longer life)

BIOTA ORIENTAL HAIR TONIC

Secret Recipe for Scalp Care

Natural biocompounds help you to have thick and abundant hair
By giving nutrients and energy to the scalp.

Biota orientalis™

Hair growth stimulants were found from leaves of Biota orientalis by 7 year research at Eco-vi laboratory, and also these components were extracted and refined to highly pure natural-based biocompounds. Biota orientalis is commonly known as tree of life. Biocompounds of its extract care lived scalp due to external stimuli, and promote hair growth by activating hair growth factor.

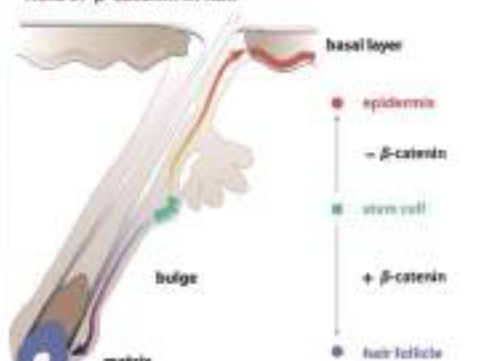

Scalp care complex

Scalp care complex is a concentrated long-term low temperature extract solution of underlying natural plants without any loss of nutrients. Eclipta Prostrata, Chrysanthemum morifolium, Fritillaria verticillata bulb, Akebia officinarum root, Kaempferia Galega Root, Ligustrum Lucidum Fruit, Panax Ginseng Root, Nelumbo Nucifera Seed and Platycodon Grandiflorum Root. It gives natural nutritive components to the scalp for healthy and thicker hair.

Biocompounds from Biota orientalis work as a multi-functional compound which has diverse functions related to hair growth:

1. Inhibit 5 α -reductase (inhibition of DHT creation): finasteride (oral medication) mechanism of hair growth
 2. Increase VEGF creation (activation of hair cell): minoxidil (topical medication) mechanism of hair growth
 3. Increase β -catenin creation (induction of hair follicle creation): New mechanism of hair growth
- It helps fast hair growth by activating mechanism 1, 2 and new mechanism 3 above.

Role of β -catenin in hair

- β -catenin: Decrease in β -catenin restricts stem cell which will be removed as a dead cell, results no change in hair growth.
- + β -catenin: Increase in β -catenin affects stem cell to be germinal matrix cell which promotes hair growth.

Certificate	-
Company Introduction	CEO Chang-Ho Cha, who had been a valve engineer, considered and researched about the problems of valve and ways to deliver better performance. Recognizing the need for special valves for many items in advanced and specialized fields, he founded Samsung Control Valve in 1990 to produce valves suitable for globalization. Typical valves are not durable as they have a short lifespan and wear excessively. In particular, Samsung Control Valve noted that valves have not been professionally developed for solid (powder) transfer lines durability, and thus, started to research and develop dome valve and pinch valve from 2008. In cooperation with domestic companies, Samsung Control Valve continuously updated field test (TEST-BED) results for 2 years, developing products that offer easier and faster maintenance by customers. Currently, Samsung Control Valve has 90% of domestic market share and is recording more than 400 billion won in annual export through indirect export by participating in overseas projects of coal-fired power plants and EPC companies. In addition, Samsung Control Valve is exporting to more than 17 countries (only for exporting to large domestic EPC large companies) by finding buyers from holding three exhibitions every year.
Product Name	DOME VALVE, GLOBE VALVE, PINCH VALVE
Product Information

Dome Valve

For our Dome valves, we implemented standardization by specification on the parts even from the 3D design stage, enabling production at a lower cost. Applying optimal technologies with reinforced wear resistance and tungsten carbide coating, our dome valves are proven to last 3 to 5 years compared to existing valves that are used about 2 months. Sizes are available from 50A to 300A.

Fields of application: transportation of cement, steam power plant ash, mine facility flour, steal plant steel powder

Pinch Valve

Pinch valves are optimized for flow control of media containing slurries and for pipelines transporting powder. The valves are available in cast, cast steel, stainless steel and aluminum, and sizes are range from 50A to 300A.

Fields of application: slurry transportation facilities in power plants, sewage treatment plants, mining facilities and paper mill

Globe Valve

Globe control valves are optimized for the transportation of gas, steam and liquid. The control mode comes with PID control and ON-OFF control. The production materials are cast steel and stainless steel, and sizes are available from 15A to 450A.

The Introduction of True light We are a switchboard and distribution board panel manufacturer and electrical contractor company established in 2012. Currently, we are working to increase convenience for existing products by developing a lighting control system using mobile and an alarm system that detects switchboard abnormality.
Product Name	i-kit distribution panel board
Product Information	-kit distribution panel board is the true modular distribution panel board which has safety, affordability, scalability, productivity, standardization and convenience. Its branch bus-bar is securely installed inside the assembly insulating case of modular i-kit (molded case) based on the stable structural advantage of general distribution panel boards. It is significantly improved the expensive and complex work processes of main and branch bus-bar.

Free and optimal extension starts with the modulation of the minimum unit.

Introduction of the innovation of the complete distribution panel board based on the understanding of the principle and structure

1 Safety

Main Bus-Bar is located inside i-kit, branch Bus-Bar is located inside the molded case of i-kit and terminal covers are molded between the circuit breaker and i-kit and between the circuit breaker and main Bus-Bar. Stability is ensured because live part is not exposed. Protection-cover is not needed but installable.

2 Economical Efficiency

Complex work process in main and branch Bus-Bar compared to general distribution panel boards is dramatically improved. Excellent economy is ensured by improving the use of additional components and expensive materials due to structural transformation of the existing distribution panel board.

3 Scalability

Simple arrangement of i-kit to the additional space on the main Bus-Bar makes on-site response action due to the further extension and design changes possible.

Strong points of i-kit module

Promise of differentiated technology of i-kit only

4 Productivity

The main Bus-Bar does not need work processes of any punching, tapping, bending and insulating tubes, the branch Bus-Bar can be replaced by a standardized i-kit. So unskilled workers can operate and this productivity is superior to the general distribution panel boards and the existing prefabricated distribution panel boards.

5 Standardize

i-kit by standardizing the main circuit breaker capacity can realize standardization to facilitate replacement, phase change and extension.

6 Convenience

The combination of main Bus-Bar and i-kit is completed by tightening of Vis for upper Bus-Bar of i-kit and does not need additional work processes so everyone can perform the work easily.

Product Name	HOT&COLD H2 water generator
Product Information	Hot and cold H2 Server generates high concentration hydrogen water even with hot and cold water in a second. The hydrogen generating technology that has been developed and improved by YOUNGWOO WATERLINE mixes hydrogen well in both hot and cold water, and its concentration and duration do not differ from the hydrogen generated at room temperatures. It has the convenient, touch-type system. You can control many functions by just touching buttons. Anyone can exchange its filter so that you don't need any help from outside. Feel safe about using it It has acquired certification from different countries including KC, CE, FDA, PSE and RoSH. Using the premium filter certified by FDA, the generator has the superb water purification capability. The 1st to 2nd step with the block carbon filter: absorbs and eliminates floating matter, rust, microorganism and trihalomethane The 3rd step with the combination filter: eliminates odor, improves the taste of water and makes far-infrared radiation anion water Hydrogen compound is not generated because hydrogen water is not saved.

Healthy water technology!
"RARA" takes the lead in hydrogen water industry.

New Standard for Good Water!
Hydrogen Water Purifier "RARA"

Features

- It immediately runs highly concentrated hydrogen water without delay.
- It constantly runs highly concentrated hydrogen water.
- It dissolves hydrogen in cold/hot purified water and does not store hydrogen water in cold/hot water tank. So the inside of cold/hot water tank is not intruded with hydrogen compounds.
- It has excellent water purification performance because of high quality filter.

Water filter

Step 1~2: CARBON BLOCK Filter
Block-shaped carbon filter efficiently adsorbs and removes floating particles, rust and organic substances. So it can protect hydrogen generator and prevent cancer-causing trihalomethane.

Step 3: COMBINATION Filter
By scientific combining block filter and activated substances which generate far-infrared rays and negative ions, the combination filter removes residual unpleasant taste and odor.

Step 4: Hydrogen Generator
Hydrogen generator is composed of platinum-coating titanium electrodes and specially processed ion-exchange membrane. And it generates 4~6 million highly concentrated (over 1.0 ppm) hydrogen water instantly and continuously.

CLEANING Filter
Cleaning filter collects and eliminates oxygen retention to protect electrodes and maintain hydrogen generation.
