INNOVATION R&D

We, Wellbeing Health Pharm is doing our best to make your more skin elastic, and helping you to maintain a proper skin balance by researching and developing skin care products and functional cosmetics that contain excellent ingredients such as Urea, Royal jelly (propolis), Hyaluronic acid, Human stem cell, and Snail secretion.

SKIN CARE & Functionality

70% of the human body is consist of water.

Water is very important to the mechanics of the human body. Our skin needs extra moisture to adapt to seasonal changes in temperature. As you get older, your body loses water naturally in many ways, which is part of the aging process. For this reason, skin care is important to improve skin resilience and balance the skin.

Manufacturing Process

We, Wellbeing Health Pharm manufacturing facilities produce moisturizers with a silky texture that absorb into the skin quickly by using nano-wave number based on wave resonance theory, for a much smaller particle size compared to pre-emulsion and an even particle distribution.

Nanotechnology

Nanotechnology increases the absorption of beneficial ingredients such as Collagen and enables active ingredients to be absorbed into deeper layers of the skin through small molecule capsulation using nano-wave number.

Fermentation-extraction

Active ingredients are more easily absorbed into the skin as they are decomposed into small molecules by the fermentation-extraction process. In addition, fermentation by beneficial bacteria increases the efficacy of crude drugs.

Continuous R&D efforts

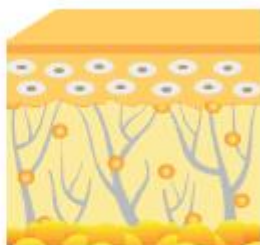

We made R&D efforts by operating an R&D institute, being selected as INNO-BIZ, and forming a technical partnership with Maria Biotech, a biotechnology research firm.

“ If skin moisture is not properly managed, it can cause wrinkles and skin problems, make the skin lose its elasticity and accelerate the aging process. ”

Skin lost its elasticity

Skin retained its elasticity.

Technical partners

Maria Biotech is a global biotechnology research firm connected with Maria Fertility Hospital, the nation's top fertility center.

“ Maria Biotech has conducted stem cell focused research for twenty years ”

Stem cells are a type of cell that has the ability to reproduce itself and form a variety of other cells. Adipose-derived stem cells are especially easy to isolate, proliferate quickly, secrete various growth factors such as VEGF, HGF, IGF, EGF, and TGF- β and different types of extracellular matrix protein including collagen and fibronectin, and have excellent moisturizing effects to keep your skin healthy and elastic.

Foot is the second heart in Human body

Human using their feet in many times of their whole life, around four and a half miles across the earth.

The foot pumps the blood from the heart back to the whole body.

That's why feet are so important for your health and you call it the second heart.

WHY WE SHOULD USING GOUNBAL FOOT CREAM?

Living cells migrate from the basal layer, which is the lower part of the epidermis, to the stratum corneum, which is the surface, at intervals of about two weeks. This circulation process is called the turnover cycle of the skin, but as the skin ages, the turnover cycle of the skin increases, and the skin does not fall off and accumulates, which causes problems in the skin circulation.

The Gounbal Foot Cream is an effective and stable foot care that alleviates the keratin build-up on the skin and provides the nano-structured moisture immediately with the finely divided moisture, helping to keep the feet moist and soft for a long time.
